About Us

Lancaster General Hospital is a 600 bed, not-for-profit, community-based hospital located in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. A Magnet hospital for clinical excellence and one of America's 100 Top Hospitals, Lancaster General Hospital is among the busiest hospitals in Pennsylvania and admits more than 40,000 patients each year. The hospital offers patients some of the most advanced healthcare technology available, not only in Lancaster County, but also the United States. Lancaster General Hospital was the first to perform open-heart surgery in Lancaster and continues to serve as a leader in the cardiology field. The hospital is also the county's only trauma center, and it provides a wide range of orthopedic and neurosurgery services that are normally found in large urban settings.

Lancaster General Hospital is the keystone of Lancaster General Health, a not-for-profit network of more than two dozen providers including Women & Babies Hospital, Suburban Outpatient Pavilion (formerly the Health Campus) and Lancaster General Medical Group.
