Once you've selected your enduring material, you will be taken to that presentation's Activity Info page. You can also find the Suggested Additional Resources file attachment at the bottom for a list of speakers' evidence-based citations.

Click the button on the right to Complete Enduring Material

The screenshot shows the 'Enduring Material' page with a progress bar at the top. The progress bar has six segments: 'View Activity Info' (highlighted in blue), 'Enter Basic User Info', 'View Content', 'Take Post Test', 'Create Account', and 'Done'. Below the progress bar, there is a blue button labeled 'Complete Enduring Material' with a green arrow pointing to it from the left.

Enter your LGH Username (same user ID that logs you on to EPIC) and click Next

After you've watched the entire presentation click the Take the Post-Test to Get Credit button (green arrow).

The screenshot shows a web interface for 'Enduring Material'. At the top, there is a navigation bar with several tabs: 'View Activity Info', 'Enter Basic User Info', 'View Content' (which is highlighted in blue), 'Take Post Test', 'Create Account', and 'Done'. Below the navigation bar, there is a text box containing instructions: 'The educational content should appear below. After you're done viewing the materials take the post-test to get credit. If an error message is generated you may want to try to download Google Chrome and try again. Please Note: The content below contains media which may take time to load.' To the right of this text box, a green arrow points to a blue button labeled 'Take the Post-Test to Get Credit'. Below the text box is a video player. The video player has a dark blue header with the Penn Medicine Lancaster General Health logo. The main video area is currently blank with a blue background. In the bottom right corner of the video player, there is a small inset video showing a man in a white lab coat standing at a podium, with a 'Paused' overlay. At the bottom left of the video player, there is a URL: 'site.lghealth.org/Mediasite/Play/9a49bad5f10249fea27a75c9ef74c1431d#'. On the right side of the video player, there are several icons for video controls: a play/pause icon, a full screen icon, a share icon, a refresh icon, and a close icon.

You will complete the test and submit it for credit. You must then complete the evaluation to get your certificate of completion.
